Son Brull to Caimari

THE RIDE: 40.9 km with 490 meters climbing

An easy ride which should take about one hour at a relaxed pace, maximum one and half hours, and it's a great alternative way to enjoy the Mallorcan countryside. It takes you through a very tranquil valley along the foothills of the Tramuntana mountains and through typical Mallorcan villages like Campanet, Moscari and Caimari, in the heart of the olive oil production in Mallorca. The landscape is rural and home to some of the island's oldest olive trees. When you make it into Caimari, go visit Sa Tafona, the town's oil press, where you can find many local products so you can take home a little taste of this rich land.

Level: Beginner (relatively flat ride and right distance for someone with little or even no experience in cycling)

Recommended start: 9.30 am (the earlier you leave, less traffic on the roads)
